This Is No Fairy Tale

Once upon a time, an attractive, ambitious woman went into a beautiful store that had a reputation for excellent quality merchandise. She said to the owner, "Sir, I would like to work for you, I will work really hard, I'll do a great job and in return I would like the following:

- ◆ For everything I sell, I want to keep 50% as my commission
- ◆ I will find other sharp people to sell for you, but I want to be paid a commission on everything they do - say 9% to 13%.
- ◆ I want to work my own hours so that sometimes I can work a lot and sometimes I can take a few days off.
- ◆ I would like absolute freedom.
- ◆ My family must always come first regardless of any other appointments.
- ◆ When I do well, I want ample recognition - not dumb little things like turkeys and hams - I'm talking diamonds and furs.
- ◆ I want to be able to promote myself to management entirely through my own efforts.

"That is what I would like. Can you give me these things?"

The store owner was in shock. After he revived, he began to roar with condescending laughter. Then he said, "Lady you CANNOT be serious! You're living in a dream world. You can't find that opportunity anywhere!"

But little did he know there is an opportunity like that and we have that opportunity in Mary Kay. We do live in a dream world and OUR DREAMS REALLY DO COME TRUE!
